SEGREGATIONISTS SETTLE BACK TO AWAIT DECISION ON INTEGRATION DISPUTE

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tension eased somewhat today in Arkansas and Virginia as segregationists settled back to await the U. S. Supreme Court's decision on whether to delay integration of Central High School at Little Rock, Ark.

The high court will hear oral arguments Thursday on a ruling by a Circuit Court of Appeals that the Little Rock school admit Negroes immediately. The Circuit Court stayed its order pending a decision by the U. S. Supreme Court.

All was not quiet on the integration front, however.

VICTIM OF KIDNAPER IS FOUND SLAIN

By DAN TEBRICK

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) — The body of a pretty blonde stenographer, who was kidnaped, raped and later died of three bullet wounds in her head, was found Monday in a shallow grave atop a mountain.

Sheriff Ray Scheerer said Floyd J. Robertson, a husky 25-year-old cement worker, orally admitted the crime.

Robertson told officers he warned the woman, Marjorie Schneider, 18, that "I'm a crack shot," and then pumped three bullets into her head Sunday morning as she ran from his car.

Robertson then carried the body to the top of a high mountain and dumped it into a shallow hole.

"My God, why did I do it?" Robertson sobbed to officers Monday night.

No charges have been filed.

The girl's ravished body was uncovered late Monday—about 36 hours after a gunman had surprised her and three other young people as they sat in a parked car at a lonely lover's lane four miles (Turn to Page Eight)

British Staying Outside Iceland 12-Mile Border

London (AP)—British trawlers fished outside Iceland's 12-mile sea border today.

The Admiralty said the trawlers that defied the Icelandic border imposed Sept. 1 were looking for better fishing. It stressed the trawlers did not move in recognition of Iceland's new sea border.

Their move killed off temporarily the threat of any new skirmishes between British gunboats and the Icelandic coast guard. Britain sent the gunboats to the waters off Iceland to protect the fishermen from arrest.

Monday the British trawler owners federation appealed to Iceland to let the dispute go to the World Court at The Hague. It promised to abide by the court's decision.

Premier Hermann Jonasson, of Iceland, has said, however, his country will not retreat from its decision to impose the 12-mile limit. The limit before Sept. 1 was three miles.

Report Shows Unemployed Drop 600,000 in August

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Government reported today that unemployment dropped by 600,000 last month, to 4,699,000. The drop was not quite as big as usual at this time of year.

The rate of unemployment, after taking seasonal factors into account, rose to the highest point since World War II, excluding one month in 1949 when a coal strike pushed up the figure.

The Commerce and Labor department reported employment in August was up nearly 200,000 to a seasonal high of 65,367,000.

August unemployment compared with a July figure of 5,294,000. The departments calculated that 7.6 per cent of the labor force was unemployed—or a seasonally adjusted rate of 4.3 per cent.

Trouble continued to brew in Van Buren, Ark., where U. S. Dist. Judge John E. Miller declined to give immediate relief to Negro students ousted from high school by a white boycott.

He suggested that an attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People file a new suit seeking a temporary injunction. The attorney indicated he would follow the judge's advice.

Negro leaders at Van Buren said none of the Negro pupils will return to school pending the outcome of court action.

A white citizens committee opposed to integration of the high school named a new leader and appointed a committee to confer with the city school board on ways of restoring segregation. One plan involved construction of a Negro high school.

Warren County, in northwest Virginia, was spared temporarily from the threat of having its high school closed under state law which makes it illegal for any school to operate on a racially mixed basis. Federal Judge John Paul directed the Warren County school board to admit 22 Negroes to the county's lone high school.

But granted a stay until Sept. 15 to allow the board to seek a formal stay pending appeal (Turn to Page Eight)

Food Store Chain Is Threatened With Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Atlantic & Pacific food store chain was faced with a strike threat today at stores in the Altoona, Pa., and Youngstown, Ohio, areas as well as the Pittsburgh district.

The Altoona and Youngstown area workers, members of Local 590 of the Food Employees Union, voted 713 to 127 Monday night in favor of joining Pittsburgh district workers in a strike scheduled for midnight Wednesday.

The Pittsburgh workers voted for a strike Sunday. A strike would affect 4,800 employees and 123 stores in the Pittsburgh district, which includes western Pennsylvania and parts of Ohio and West Virginia. It would affect 80 stores in the Altoona and Youngstown sections.

Girls Are Admitted to Shady Side Academy

PITTSBURGH (AP)—For the first time in the 75-year history of Shady Side Academy in suburban Fox Chapel, girls have been admitted as pupils.

When the eight girls were enrolled in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades Monday they found themselves outnumbered 20 to 1 by the 157 boy pupils.

School officials said girls are not being admitted to classes for kindergarten through fifth grade or ninth through 12th grade.

New School May Be Under Contract by First of Year

Warren Area Joint School Board members were told during the meeting last night that architects have promised concluded plans for the new high school building by Nov. 1st.

Superintendent Carl Whipple has stated that if progress continues, it is hoped to have the new building under contract by the first of the year.

Joint Committee members also advanced the new high school program by discussing acquisition of land and receiving "different" recommendations from the Buildings and Grounds Committee as recommended by its chairman Russell Hanson. Dr. Whipple said that different offers would be proffered two of the Swick site land owners.

Five Convicted In Pike Fraud Get Extensions

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Five men convicted of attempting to defraud the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission of some 19 million dollars were granted extra time to appeal their conviction by the State Superior court.

Attorneys for the five had been scheduled to present the appeals next week. But they told the court Monday they are unable to meet the deadline because of the size of the task.

The court continued the appeals until its November session in Philadelphia. The five were convicted following a two-month-long trial in June and July of 1957. They were sentenced last June 5.

All are free on bail pending the appeals on convictions of conspiracy to defraud the commission in a roadbed stabilizing project along the Northeast Extension of the toll road in Luzerne and Lackawanna counties.

The commonwealth charged that heads of Mann-Mine conspired with commission personnel in swindling the commission of almost 8 million dollars. Had the project not been halted, the commission claimed it eventually would have been bilked of 19½ million dollars.

Alleged Briber Shot Trying To Flee Detectives

NEW YORK (AP) — A Brooklyn man, wounded by a detective in a chase, is accused of offering a $3,000 bribe to two mail sorters in attempt to win a $30,000 house on an audience participation TV giveaway show.

Gerard Mignone, 38, shot in the cheek, was reported in fair condition today at Kings County Hospital.

Mignone was arrested late Monday on complaint of the producers of "The Price Is Right" show televised by NBC.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bernard Patton of Queens said Mignone offered the bribe to two 16-year-old boys employed by a Queens mail service. The firm handles mail for The Price Is Right, which offers prizes both to contestants in the studio and to the audience.

The boys reported the alleged bribe offer.

Two district attorney's detectives went to Brooklyn to arrest Mignone. They said Mignone ran into an alley, one of the detectives fired a warning shot, but bullet ricocheted and hit Mignone.

Boxer Fails as Car Watcher for Mistress

RIDGEWOOD, N. J. (AP) — Mrs. Peter Pagano thought her sports car was safe. She left her boxer dog sitting in it, in the parking lot of a supermarket.

When she came out of the store, the dog was sitting in the parking space.

The car was gone. Police sent out a 13-state alarm for the missing roadster.

Little Rock Board Urges a Breather For Couple Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Urging a 2½-year breather in integrating its public schools, the Little Rock school board says federal courts may not be able to cope with state opposition to mixing of races in schools.

The board posed that question Monday in asking the Supreme Court to reverse a ruling by the 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals which struck down a 2½-year delay the board had been granted to integrate Little Rock's troubled Central High School.

In a petition to the court, the school board noted what it called mass opposition to court integration orders "by the people of the state and the state itself."

The board said if the high court's 1955 decision calling for an end to racial segregation in public schools is not sufficiently flexible to allow such a delay, "then it may be seriously questioned whether courts are able to effectively cope" with opposition such as that encountered from the state of Arkansas.

"And perhaps this court should hold," the school board said. The Supreme Court meets in special session Thursday to hear arguments whether Little Rock is to be given a postponement of integration until January 1961. That date was set by Federal District Judge Harry J. Lemley of Hope, Ark., in granting a delay.

Veteran Legislator Is Dead From Stroke

WASHINGTON (AP) Rep. Herman P. Eberhart (D-Pa.) died today from the effects of a stroke he was 68.

The congressman had been in a hospital since Wednesday.

The veteran legislator had represented Pennsylvania's 28th District covering Allegheny County and part of Pittsburgh since 1936. He was a member of the House Ways and Means Committee.

A widower, Eberhart is survived by two sons, Herman P., 22, and James Jacob, 17.

Eberhart died in the Arlington, Va., hospital, just across the Potomac River from Washington.

Eberhart's death leaves the Democrats with a 233-197 margin in the House. He was seeking reelection for a 12th term.

Dems Shatter Traditional GOP Domination in Maine To Capture Major Contests

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two former Democratic senators pushed comeback attempts today as voters in 10 states chose nominees in party primaries.

Claude Pepper, who held a Senate seat for 14 years until his defeat in 1950, is bidding for a return against Sen. Spessard Holland in Florida's Democratic primary, equivalent to election.

Gov. Ernest McFarland of Arizona, who served two terms in the Senate until he was sidelined in 1952, is making a new try to return to Washington in a race with Stephen W. Lang-made, Democratic national committeeman for Arizona.

Today's primary contests involve 8 Senate seats, 59 House seats and 7 governorships.

The Democrats achieved a major victory in this year's general elections when they shattered Maine's Republican tradition Monday and captured four of five major races.

Gov. Edmund Muskie led the Democratic victory parade with a 50,000-vote-plus triumph over Republican Sen. Frederick G. Payne in a contest for senator.

The Democrats also kept the governorship as Clinton A. Clauson defeated Republican Horace A. Hildreth by more than 10,000 votes. And they won two of three House races.

Many candidates in today's primaries will be nominated automatically because they have no opposition. They include Senators John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

Goldwater will face the winner of the McFarland-Langmade race. It was Goldwater who defeated McFarland in 1952.

The Florida fight provides voters with a clear-cut choice in political philosophies. Pepper, a liberal, supported President Franklin Roosevelt's New Deal policies during his years in the Senate. Holland is an avowed conservative. Most predictions gave Holland the victory.

Among the House races, Mrs. Coya Knutson (D-Minn.) is seeking Democratic renomination in Minnesota without the support of her husband, who thinks she should come home and forget about serving in Congress. In fact, husband Andrew threw his backing to his wife's opponent, businessman Marvin A. Evenson.

A rundown of other major primary contests:

Vermont—Sen. Ralph E. Flanders is retiring and former Gov. Lee E. Emerson and Rep. Winston L. Prouty are vying in a hot battle to win the Republican nomination for the seat.

Pictures Taken 19 Miles Up Are Sent to M. I. T.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Special photographic plates bearing what scientists hope are further clues to the secrets of outer space were being read here today for a trip to Massachusetts Institute of Technology for analysis.

The data was obtained by a specially built lead-shielded gamma ray telescope camera towed to an altitude of more than 19 miles by a huge 302-foot long plastic balloon.

The balloon, launched by General Mills, Inc., of Minneapolis Sunday night, soared to 104,600 feet, where it remained for some 16 hours.

A triggering device cut the 900-pound telescope and its 500-pound lead shield free. It descended by parachute and was recovered on a southeastern Minnesota farm.

The telescope was devised by MIT scientists in an attempt to provide additional information about the source and direction of cosmic rays, considered a potential hazard to space flight.

Bodies of Drowning Victims Are Recovered

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Three bodies recovered from Lake Erie have been identified as those of Ohio men missing since their boat capsized on Aug. 29.

They are Ralph L. Wallace, 26, and Granville P. Holcomb, 30, both of Akron; and Howard Rose, 36, of Barberton. The body of their companion, Terrill Gra-nmer, 28, also of Akron was found last week.

The bodies of Wallace, Holcomb and Rose were washed ashore Monday several miles west of here.

Their boat capsized during the Labor Day weekend while they were fishing off Manchester Beach about 10 miles west of Erie.

Merchants Vote to "Back the Dragons"

Retail Merchants of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce last night added their support to the "Back the Dragons" campaign which is developing this week on behalf of the 1958 Warren High School football team.

John Logan spoke to the retailers committee last night in explaining plans for this weekend intended to stimulate the sale of season tickets and to increase attendance at the Saturday afternoon games.

The committee resolved to support this worthwhile effort and is urging all local merchants to decorate their stores and windows this weekend in cooperation with the drive.

White House Reaction to Latest Note

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower wants the Soviet Union to restrain Red China's territorial expansion ambitions in the dangerous Far East crisis.

A proposal that the Chinese Communists be cautioned strongly by their Moscow allies was the summer White House reaction late Monday to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's demand that American forces be hauled out of the trouble-ridden Formosa Strait area.

Khrushchev, in a letter Eisenhower received at his vacation headquarters, also asserted the Soviet Union would regard an attack on Red China as an attack on the Soviet Union.

The United States came back with an accusation that the Peiping government has taken unprovoked military action against the Chinese Nationalists in heavy bombardment of the offshore island of Quemoy.

Moscow made Khrushchev's message public just four hours after Red China's Mao Tse-tung had expressed hope in Peiping that talks with the United States at the ambassadorial level would begin as soon as possible in Warsaw.

By FORREST EDWARDS

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—With U. S. help the Chinese Nationalists can keep the Quemoy islands supplied despite "a relatively determined effort by the Chinese Communists" to block the besieged outposts. Vice Adm. Wallace M. Beakley said today.

Atomic Tests to Start Next Week in the Nevada Desert

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, with its 1958 nuclear tests in the Pacific completed, starts next week an abbreviated series of atomic tests in the Nevada desert.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced the end of the test firing of nuclear weapons at the Eniwetok Proving Ground in the Pacific. It gave few details beyond calling the tests successful.

A few hours later the commission gave out a few details of the forthcoming Nevada test series which the AEC said Aug. 29 calls for only 10 test shots, all of them relatively small.

The first test, expected about Sept. 15, will be fired from a balloon. The second, set tentatively for about Sept. 25, is to be detonated atop a 50-foot tower. This would be the lowest firing platform ever used on the Nevada grounds, 90 miles northwest of Las Vegas.

The AEC said about half the shots will be in deep underground tunnels but that none of these is scheduled before Oct. 8.

All the shots are to be concluded by Oct. 31, the date proposed by President Eisenhower for a one-year suspension of nuclear tests. Oct. 31 also is the date tentatively set for the beginning of East-West talks in Geneva, Switzerland, on the banning of tests. Both the United States and Britain have offered to end testing for a year from the commencement of the talks if the Soviet Union continues its own test ban.

U.A.W. Squares Off in Battle Over Contract

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers and car industry management squared off today in their contract negotiations battle amid new hopes of settlement without a strike.

On the surface, at least, conditions appeared more favorable than 24 hours earlier in the stale-mated talks.

With UAW President Walter Reuther on the scene as a negotiator, Chrysler, Ford and General Motors all went into separate negotiation sessions with the UAW.

Overnight the UAW called off its public meetings scheduled for today at which it had intended to report on negotiations to invited community leaders of auto industry circles.

Also, Reuther and Vice President Louis G. Seaton of General Motors reported a better understanding.

Mr. Wyand emphasized the need for constant awareness of the growing and changing complexities of the regional economy and the effect these changes have upon the demands for adult education assistance and help from the University through its Regional and County Offices.

Other guests and participants from the main campus at University Park included T. Reed Ferguson, newly appointed director of University relations for Penn State, Floyd B. Fischer, in charge of information and development for General Extension, and H. K. Anders, Assistant Director for the Agricultural and Home Economics Extension Division.

Between 25,000 and 30,000 Persons Attend Grandest Youngsville Fair in Years

Youngsville has just ended one of the biggest and most successful community fairs in its history. It is estimated that between 25,000 and 30,000 persons visited the Fair Grounds during the four days of its activity.

In spite of rain, Booster parade went off as scheduled Thursday evening. The Kiddies parade on Friday afternoon was more fortunate in its weather and they marched to the Park in sunshine.

Exhibits were larger than usual. Baked goods display had more entries than it had for ten years.

In Horseshoe pitching, Class A, first place was won by Don Ludwick, Russell, second, by Vugl Williams, Akeley, and third, by Harold Nyquist, Youngsville.

The Class B. Champion was Gerald Dean, Grand Valley, with Albert Peterson, Tidoute, second.

Pittsfield Garden Club won the blue ribbon, and Tidoute second place.

Brokenstraw Grange booth won first place, East Blanche, second, Tidoute third, and Eldred fourth.

In the tractor pulling contest First Class, Fred Danielson, Pittsfield, won first place, with a John Deere B; Bill Pantell, Pittsfield, second, with a 420 John Deere; Bill Peterson, third, Sugar Grove, with an 861 Ford.

In the Second Class, first place went to David Sweeney, Sugar Grove, with a John Deere B; second, to Jim Perrin, with a John Deere B; third, to Dick Littlefield, Youngsville, with an 861 Ford Diesel.

In the Third Class, Paul Mitchell, Waterford, took first place, with a Super M Farmall; Elliott Danielson, Pittsfield, second, with a Super M Farmall; and Harold Mitchell, Bear Lake, third, with a 350 Farmall.

The Fourth Class ended in a tie between Ned Chase, Youngsville, with a 620 John Deere and Rod Rowland, Youngsville, with an MTA Farmall. They pulled approximately 14,000 pounds.

Iner Olson won first prize on his hooked rug.

The ever popular Jesters placed first in the Amateur Contest Saturday night, with their rock 'n roll music; Gene Dygen, second, an accordion solo, and the Playboys fifth.

Forty-four head of cattle were entered—the greatest ever.

The Grand Champion Holstein is owned by the Roseloff Farm, Irvine, the Grand Champion Guernsey is owned by Robert Scott, Bear Lake, and the Grand Champion Jersey by Jeanette Curtis, of Columbus.

In the Light Class Horse Pulling contest, first place went to the team of Walter Tome, of West Farmington, Ohio. In the Heavy Class, to Jack Condon, Randolph, N. Y. In both classes, the greatest number of teams entered in the history of the Fair.

In the Agricultural Department, not only was more produce entered, but the quality was generally improved. The officials of the Fair thank all organizations who helped in any way to make this annual occurrence the great success that it was, especially the Firemen, Kiwanis, and the Civil Defense for helping with the parking of the cars, and also all individuals who aided in promoting the Fair.

In the Kiddies Parade, spectators saw men from Space, men wounded in the "Service", nurses, Pilgrims, storybook characters, the high school band, decorated bicycles, doll carriages, tricycles, and wagons, and pets big and little. All spoke mutely of the interest of the parents in this annual event.

Many musical units, including the Cornplanter Drum and Bugle Corps, from Warren, took part in the Booster Parade, beautiful floats, fire companies, the ambulance, borough equipment, and borough officials.

Report Feature: Snake Importing Stopped in Boro

Most startling, if happy, fact to be brought to the attention of Borough Council standing committees at the meeting last night was that an East street mother had been told by the Health office not to allow her son to bring any more live rattlesnakes into the borough.

Elsewhere, the reports were more gloom.

Police Department Police reported $7,067 in property damages and nine injuries occurred in 15 accidents during August. Fines collected amounted to $2,433, parking meters brought in $1,847, for a grand total (with miscellaneous items) of $4,115.

Twenty five dollars in stolen goods were recovered, 18 doors were found unlocked, 25 transients were lodged over night, 198 were arrested for parking violations, 23 for other traffic infractions.

Fire Department Fire department personnel used 9 hours and 21 minutes responding to 18 calls during August, 5 of which were for the fire engine, one for a false alarm. Loss was $4,335, of $642,500 evaluation involved.

Other activities of the fire Department during the month: 2 New 6" hydrants were installed and put in service; Madison avenue and Park street, and Malvinia street.

The Chief and Captain Fitzgerald went to the Pennsylvania Electric Company at Starbuck where a demonstration was held in fighting oil and gas fires.

Engine No. 2 and the Chief's car were at the United Refining Company testing their new fog nozzles. Engine No. 2 pumped from their hydrant for a half hour at 160 pounds pressure.

Three fire inspections were made.

Public Works Dept. All paved streets were inspected and repaired where needed. Business section was swept three times, other areas thrice. Collected from scales: $77. Third and Fifth avenues bridge undercarriages were painted, decking next year.

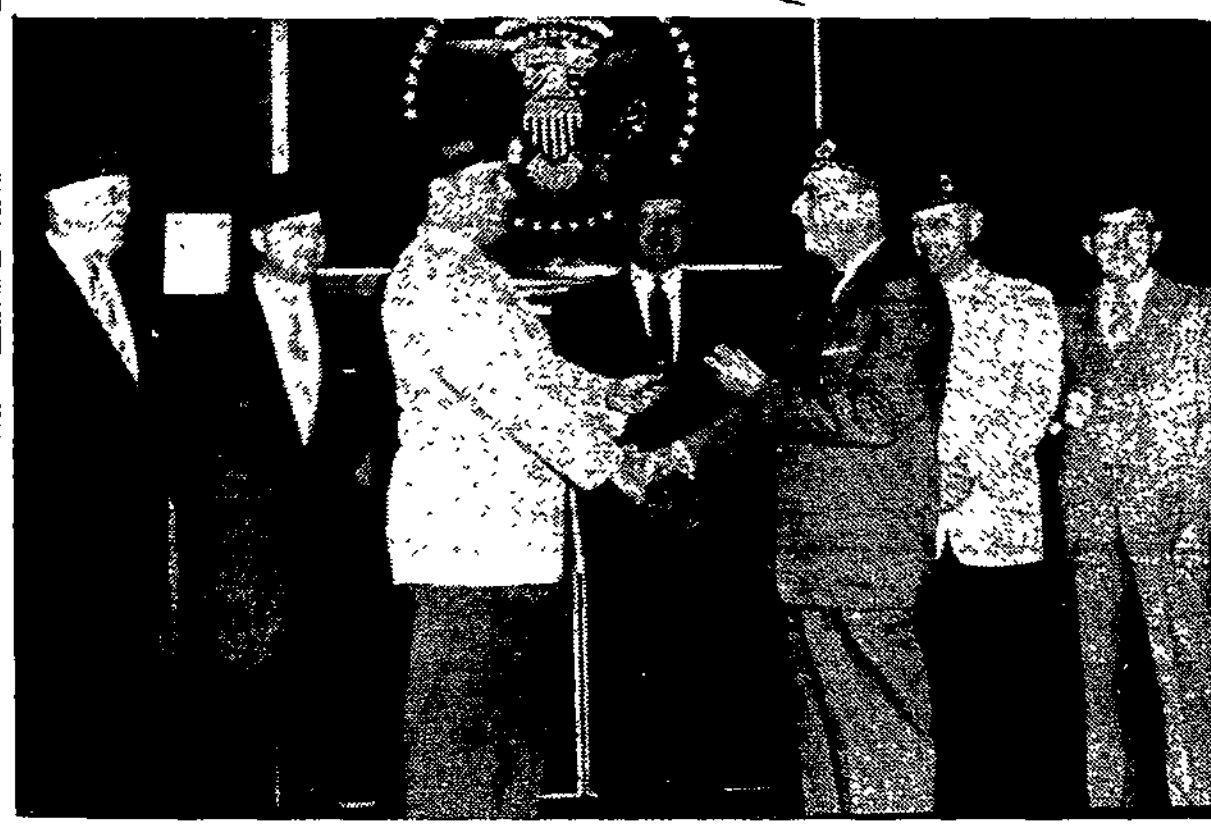

Park Department Lawns of all parks and playgrounds have been mowed three times during the month. River embankment has been mowed once on both sides of the river. Airport has been mowed twice.

Painting of bleachers has been completed at War Memorial Field. The bleachers have been moved from the baseball diamonds to the gridiron. The portable refreshment stand has been erected and painted. Score board repaired and given a prime coat of paint. Exterior walls of the rest rooms have been painted. The worn areas of the gridiron have been repaired with sod.

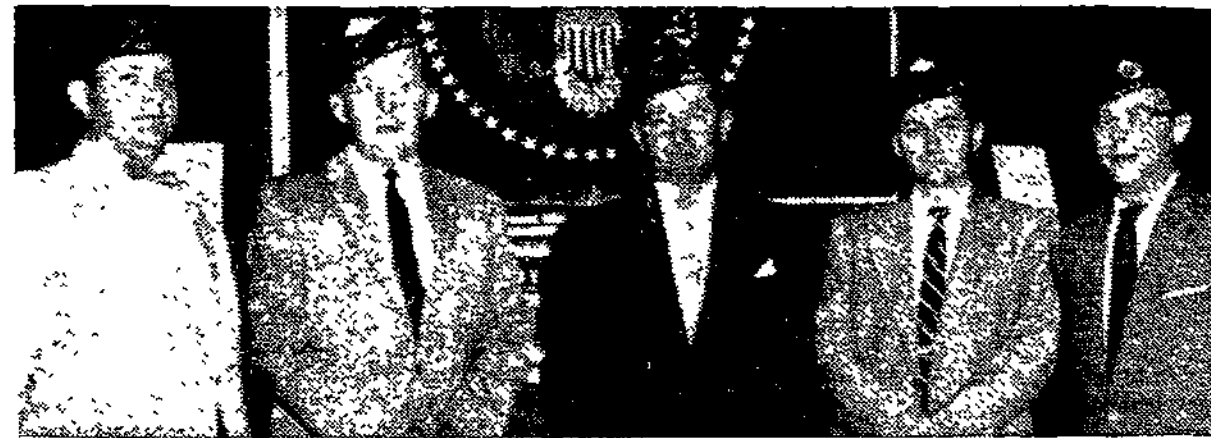

The tetherball courts have been paved with blacktop on six of the playgrounds. Installation of sewer and water lines to the Mulberry Playground has been completed. Exterior concrete block walls of rest rooms and equipment sheds on the playgrounds have been painted during the month. Playground supplies have been picked up and stored at the termination of the playground season. However, the play equipment will remain in place until on or about October 15th.

Storm damage to street trees was about normal for the month with the removal of several large limbs.

County 4-H Club Members Share In Show Honors

Five breed champions were named and other honors decided at the 13th annual Northwest District 4-H Dairy Show held Saturday, at the Crawford County Fair grounds in Meadville, according to Associate County Agent, Bernard Wingert. Members of Warren County 4-H Clubs shared in the awards. A total of 150 animals were entered including 9 from Warren County. Blue ribbon winners of the District Show will complete in the third annual Pennsylvania Junior Dairy Show in the Farm Show Building at Harrisburg, September 18th.

The Grand Champion in the Jersey Breed was shown by Nancy Curtis from Columbus. Amy Curtis placed second with her junior yearling Jersey. Both animals received blue ribbons and the Grand Champion received a show blanket from the Meadville Jaycees.

Other 4-H Club members showing calves were Gilbert and Alan Scott, R. D., Bear Lake, and Gale Johnson, Lottsville. Their Guernsey calves placed 8th, 10th and 12th respectively in the senior calf class. Dennis Lindell, R. D. Akeley, and Richard Triskett, Jr., Columbus, placed 9th and 10th in the Holstein junior calf class with their animals. William Martin, Youngsville placed 12th with his Holstein senior calf, and Charles Lindell, R. D. Akeley, placed 9th in the junior Yearling Holstein Class.

Other counties in the show were—Butler, Clarion, Crawford, Elk, Erie, Jefferson, Lawrence, McKean, Mercer and Venango. Of uniformly high quality, the cattle provided keen competition in the show ring. Two judging rings operated at the same time to speed up the judging and to allow the judges more time for discussing their placings following each class.

Judging the main show were Clark Bowen, Holstein Breeder from Northeastern Penna., Dr. John McKittrich, Brown Swiss Breeder from Ohio, and Roger Dmug, Southeastern Penna. Artificial Breeding Coop. Fieldman Fitting and showmanship winners were selected by Phil Sellers, Allegheny County Agent, and John Smith, York County Agent.

Parents of club members, local leaders, and other interested persons were among spectators. Interest shown by them indicated the day's activities served an educational purpose for those outside the ring as well as for the participating club members, it was pointed out by Wingert.

BITUMINOUS PAVING

Two hot tank car loads of bituminous paving material were expected in Warren this morning from Koppers Co., Pittsburgh, as crews girded for a three-day paving stint to complete the summer street improvement program. Streets to be blacktopped include: Crescent street from Jackson Ave. to Madison; Madison avenue from Franklin to Prospect; Buchanan street from Jackson to Jefferson; Jefferson street from Conewango to Prospect; Laurel street from Fourth to Fifth.

HEARING CONTINUED

The outraged coffee salesman who was picked up August 25 for violating the borough's Green River ordinance prohibiting door-to-door sales is beginning to hedge a bit on his vow to "fight the matter in court." Peace Justice Martha Lawson said this morning that a scheduled hearing into the matter set for this morning has been continued two weeks. Harry E. Thompson, 18, of Erie, was the salesman arrested. Sales manager John Bart promised the legal battle.

FAILED TO SEE CAR

Approximately $140 damage was caused at 8 a. m. today when two cars collided at the intersection of Water street and Fifth avenue. Police said Genevieve Gnagay, 21, who resides at the corner of Conewango and Third avenues, was heading north on Water street when she stopped to wait for a lead car to go through the intersection. Then, as Miss Gnagay pulled past the sign she told officers she did not see an eastbound car operated by Geraldine Mathis of 215 Madison avenue. The Gnagay car front end struck the side of the Mathis machine. Damages were estimated at $130 to the latter vehicle, $10 to Gnagay's.

Rotarians Hear Interesting Talk By School Official

Dr. Carl Whipple, superintendent of Warren borough schools, talked to the Warren Rotary Club Monday noon at its weekly meeting on the topic: "What's New in Education?" Introduced by William Walker, Jr., this month's program chairman, the speaker spoke of National, International and local Educational trends.

Visitors at the meeting were the following Rotarians: Glenn Phillips, of Jacksonsville, Fla., and the Rev. Paul B. Leida, Little Valley, N. Y. Also visiting the Club was Melvin Keller, president of Warren School Board, a guest of Ralph Owens. President Frank Perrin announced the Club's attendance average for the month of August was 82.73% and commended members.

Final announcement was made of the visit of the district governor of Rotary, Herman Offner of Edinboro, who will visit the Club, conduct an "Assembly" program and the Club meeting September 15th. A 100% attendance at this meeting was urged by Attendance Chairman Shurl Glass.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lana Turner looks like a million dollars these days—literally.

The actress is appearing in "Imitation of Life," her first picture since the stabbing of her boy friend, Johnny Stompanato, by her teen-age daughter. Although imitation may be part of the title, the jewels Lana wears are for real—more than one million dollars' worth.

It's no secret the real jewelry plus more than $100,000 in new clothes helped boost Lana's sagging morale when she needed it most.

"The jewels not only make me feel wonderful," she says, "But you should see what they do to the crew. Everybody's face lights up every time I wear them."

Included in the baubles are a set consisting of a Russian emerald necklace, bracelet, earrings and ring. That ensemble is valued at $240,000. Audiences, of course, can't tell the difference between real jewels and phony ones.

"But I can," comments Lana. The jewels are borrowed from Laykin et Cie, a French jewelry house associated with a Beverly Hills department store. Guards deliver them to the set each day, stay with them and take them back to the company vaults at night. Producer Ross Hunter figured

Rankin Avenue, Boro Flag, Barricade Observation, Are Brought Before City Dads
Warren Borough Council took only 24 minutes Monday evening to act on several routine matters and refer other items which developed to proper committees.
Borough Manager George Geracimos, speaking for Borough Engineer Robert DeBell, requested that motorists please observe barricades on streets where bituminous surfacing is to begin shortly under the street improvement program for 1958.
The engineer's report also stated that the new sewage plant system for the borough was 70 per cent completed, and that work on the Glade Run bridge at the borough line on Park street would begin shortly.
Borough Manager Geracimos also read a petition signed by 19 residents of Rankin avenue, requesting that their street be made one way west for the safety of the children. The petition pointed out that of 24 children on the one-block stretch between upper Poplar and Hickory streets, 20 were under five years of age.
The petition requested further that 19 cars had to use the streets because the families lived there but that a "no thru traffic" sign should be erected at the Hickory street entrance to cut traffic attempting to dodge the street light at Fourth avenue and Hickory. A stop sign at Poplar and Rankin was recommended too.
The matter was referred to Public Safety Committee.
Maurice Emery, Finance Committee Chairman, read three minor corrections in the list of bills to be paid which is mailed to council members each month. Then City Fathers approved bills totaling $8,427.67 for August, and an August payroll for borough employees amounting to $20,550.69.
Glen J. Patchen, Public Safety Committee chairman, reported that as soon as parts arrive, the traffic light at the intersection of Hickory street and Pennsylvania avenue would no longer act "like a pinball machine." His resolution to employ James A. Tridico as a probationary patrolman on the police force passed unanimously.
So did a resolution cutting the necessary employment period before a man can become a driver on the fire department from three years to one year. It mentioned these other periods of employment before men could apply for promotions in the fire department: junior captain, 5 years; captain, 8 years; assistant chief, 10 years. And for the police department: sergeant, 5 years; second lieutenant, 7 years; first lieutenant, 9 years.
The amendment to a previous resolution brought the borough code back into line with the change made in the state civil service code.
Burgess William E. Rice gave the invocation and acknowledged a letter from Mrs. C. K. McGary thanking the council for its tribute to her late husband who served as borough clerk for many years.
Burgess Rice also said he had been approached by Cornplanter Drum and Bugle Corps for a borough flag to place in its color guard. This, stated Mr. Rice, was probably in the realm of the council finance committee and it was so referred.
The Burgess added that when the committee considered the matter, it might just as well think about buying such an emblem for the borough, too, since it does not have one.
Council members also approved a change in the list of new street improvements which must be submitted to the state. Council Member Nick Merenick, Public Works Committee chairman, explained that it is necessary to use at least 25 per cent of gasoline tax refund money on new projects.
When the proposed widening of Second avenue was dropped because of excessive costs, new sewers on Madison, Buchanan, Fifth and Alexander streets were substituted as the new construction required.

KILLER OF CHILDREN
Says the Bradford Era:
Burns cause more injury and death among children than any other agent. Every parent should know how to identify and treat them.
This point is stressed by Today's Health, an American Medical Association publication. It then provides some simple but vital rules:
Youngsters will grasp everything within reach, so, never allow conditions to exist which can lead to accidents. Keep matches from children; keep pots from the edge of the stove, and keep youngsters from fires.
Determine quickly the degree of burn. In a first degree burn the skin is red; in second degree, the skin is blistered; in third degree the skin is charred.
For the first or simple second degree burns, coat affected area with antiseptic ointment or olive or baby oil. This relieves pain and prevents skin from cracking and drying out.
For deep second and all third degree burns, call a doctor immediately. Shock and infection may occur. A layman should not attempt to treat burns of these types.

SPECIAL REGISTRATION WEEK
With workers of both major parties in the county actively engaged in intensive drives to enroll new members for the November election it seems an appropriate time to remind that Governor George M. Leader has proclaimed a special period for signing up voters in Pennsylvania.
In proclaiming the period September 8-15 as special registration week, the chief executive of the Commonwealth "urges all fellow citizens who are eligible to vote and have not registered to do so during this time."
Incidentally the final date for registration for the November 4 election is next Monday, September 15th.

We join with the large circle of friends, relatives and neighbors in extending deepest sympathy to the family of popular young Roger Clyde Swanson, Warren High graduate, who was killed almost instantly in an unusual accident while flying a hand-controlled model airplane Sunday afternoon on a farm in Pine Grove township.

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Nothing in these changing times shows better the changes being forced on a democratic society than the authority given one man to put us into war if and when he alone decides it's necessary.
There have been two startling examples in the past few weeks: when President Eisenhower sent troops into Lebanon and the 7th Fleet into the Formosa Strait. "I know whether these moves might trigger the Russians and Red Chinese into action."
The Constitution says only Congress has the power to declare war. And Congress is jealous of that power. But it had given Eisenhower beforehand a blank check to use American forces in the Far East and Middle East if necessary to halt the Communists.
Several presidents in American history—acting on their own constitutional authority as commander in chief of the armed forces—have sent American forces into action without waiting for congressional approval.
But, with the exception of President Truman's action in Korea, these were minor episodes compared with what might have followed Eisenhower's use of the armed forces.
Perhaps three things can be pointed to as responsible for inducing Congress—before any actual use of force was considered imminent—to give a president the right to use that force on his own judgment alone:
1. The stepped-up pace of war making—on the ground and in the air—that might make a sudden decision by the President necessary without waiting for action by Congress.
2. Assumption by this country, after more than a century of isolation, of free-world leadership and responsibility for being the bulwark against Communist aggression.
3. The vivid experience of Truman in 1950 when, confronted with the Chinese against South Korea, he ordered American forces into action and only consulted congressional leaders later.
Truman felt he had to act fast to save South Korea from being overwhelmed. In this new age of jets and missiles—similar sudden action might be necessary to prevent a Communist sweep elsewhere.
Eisenhower didn't and couldn't know when he sent troops into Lebanon, after the revolution in Iraq, whether the Soviets, seeing United States forces practically in their back yard, might retaliate in some way that could lead to war. In Lebanon there was no evidence of Communist attack, but Eisenhower said the friendly Lebanese government asked for help to save it from being overwhelmed.
Likewise when Eisenhower ordered elements of the 7th Fleet to convey ammunition ships to the island of Quemoy—three miles off the China mainland—he didn't know whether the Red Chinese might retaliate.
A major war was a possibility in both cases.

Here and There
Want to buy some used snow fence? An Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg says some one and one-half million feet of snow fence is on sale at State Highways Department sheds across the Commonwealth. The Property and Supplies Department, which handles state sales and purchases, says the fence is no longer usable by the Department. The fencing is being sold at five cents a running foot. It cost the state between 19 and 25 cents a running foot at wholesale prices. The Highways Department says the fencing breaks under snow pressure when strung in long spans, making it unfeasible for state use. However, we might suggest you look elsewhere for fence if you are in the market, since Superintendent Chet Walker advises that he does not have any for sale at the Starbuck sheds.
Considering the progress aviation has made in the last fifty years the following Washington dispatch which appears on the first page of the Warren Evening Times of September 9, 1958, is of more than timely interest: "Washington, Sept. 9.—At Fort Myer yesterday Orville Wright made the two greatest airplane flights ever made publicly in this country, when he remained in the air for over eleven minutes on his first flight and for nearly eight minutes on the second attempt. There was apparently no reason why the flights could not have been of even greater duration, as the aviator landed only because of the approaching darkness. Throughout both flights Mr. Wright apparently had the machine under perfect control, rising at times to sixty feet and making sharp turns. It was a few minutes before six o'clock when Mr. Wright signalled his assistant to release the machine. It shot along the track and rose almost immediately after leaving it. Silent

And here's an item of considerable interest about the origination of the ice cream sundae: "The sundae is a comparatively recent effort to appeal to the taste that has been satisfied by ice cream of conventional flavors. It is, as everybody knows, a small plate of ice cream over which has been poured chocolate syrup, the juice of fruits, or which has been sprinkled with nuts, partially reduced to powder. But why it is so called? Some time was taken in an endeavor to penetrate the mystery, but in vain. Many entertaining surmises were advanced and a few of them are furnished in an article in the Washington Post. It is a word first used by a

OUTWARD TO THE STARS (16)—Permanent Orbiters

(1) Designs for permanent manned satellites, or space stations, have been proposed for years. Panel above shows several of these ideas (not drawn to scale).
Sphere (a) is the shape that gives the most usable space for its size.
At (b) is the well-known doughnut design of Werner von Braun, favored by many experts. Rotation around its hub provides artificial gravity at the rim. In the original design, a concave ring was planned to catch sunlight for power. Advances in atomic energy now indicate that a small reactor, located on a mart, could be used.
Huge station at (c) is design of American rocket engineer G. Harry Stine. Rotating wheel at end houses living quarters.
Strange shape at (d) was proposed by the Britons H. E. Ross and R. A. Smith. It is essentially a giant mirror which focuses the Sun's energy on boilers to power the living quarters in the mart.
The German, Kraft Ehrlicke, has offered numerous designs. Two are sketched at (e) and (f). Four-man station at left revolves about storage and instrument center in hub. Working and living quarters are in two outriggers. At right is a station that could be constructed from bodies of Atlas ICBM missiles—a form of "hardware" now available.
(2) But before construction of a space station can begin, materials must be placed in orbit. One suggestion is to use economical remote-controlled jet carriers to lift cargo rockets part of the way—actually, vertical-takeoff-and-landing launching platforms. These could give a rocket an initial boost of hundreds of miles an hour and save it from having to use its fuel going through the densest part of the atmosphere. As a result payload could be increased.
(3) Firing of the cargo rockets would be timed so that they were placed in close orbits. Identifiers with markings and broadcasting their position with solar-powered transmitters, they would wait until men were sent up to "corral" them.
Next: Building the Space Station.

Boyle's Comment

NEW YORK (AP)—Man, lord of the Earth, may turn out to be one of the bums of the universe.
He is boss of the circling mud-ball he dwells on. But it is a pretty small potato in the awesome garden of the sky, and man himself may rate only as a minor two-legged insect in the vaster scheme of things.
To most of us, the idea of life on other planets is a pleasant fiction of science writers. We laugh at cartoons showing little green-eyed bug-and-manlike creatures landing here in space ships and demanding, "Take me to your leader."
A more sobering picture is given by an eminent astronomer, Dr. Harlow Shapley, in the Saturday Review.
Dr. Shapley is no alarmist about any imminent invasion from Mars or Venus, where he doubts any advanced form of life exists. But in a way he is much more alarming than any science-fiction writer.
Does life exist on any other planet? In the huge theater of the heavens, Dr. Shapley believes it reasonable to assume there is life on at least 100 million planets—and, more likely, on perhaps 100 trillion planets.
What kind of life? Probably many forms we are familiar with here on Earth. But Dr. Shapley can visualize others. Trees that walk, for example, and animals which, weary of mobility, may from time to time put down roots into the soil and vegetate for a while.
There may even exist higher forms of life than man which have developed senses beyond his own five limited avenues to knowledge—taste, sight, scent, touch and hearing.
"We may be intellectual minims in the life of the universe," says Dr. Shapley, who seems overly cheerful at the prospect man is a planetary ignoramus.
His chilling assessment puts a new light on the whole situation. All along we have thought of our neighbors from way up there as freaks. And it may turn out we are the freaks.
If they arrive here before we go there, will they come as friends? Or will they, perhaps seize us for use as food for their pets, bait to go fishing, or live toys to entertain their children? The mundane fears do not disturb Dr. Shapley, who thinks the human ego could do with a little deflating.
"We cannot escape humility," he says, "and as groping philosophers and scientists we are thankful for the mysteries that still lie beyond our grasp."
Dr. Shapley can go on being as thankful as he wants to. Frankly, we aren't at all.
If a stranger alights from a flying saucer in our vicinity, we plan to throw a rock at him, rush to the nearest phone and call John Foster Dulles—collect.

★ WASHINGTON COLUMN ★
Good Relations With New Iraq Government Difficult
BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The United States is having its difficulties trying to aid the new government of Iraq.
There were 36 TCA (technical cooperation assistance) projects in Iraq when the military coup under General—now Premier—Abdul Karim Kassem assassinated King Faisal on July 14.
All U.S. aid projects were immediately suspended. Also, the U.S. information office in Baghdad was closed and the U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group was denied use of its own headquarters except under Iraqi army escort.
In the ensuing six weeks only 27 of the 36 TCA projects have been restored. Negotiations on the other nine are being carried on by U.S. Ambassador Waldemar J. Gallman and Ben Hill Brown Jr., head of the TCA missions.
BIGGEST STUMBLING BLOCK so far has been over continuation of the Iraq Development Board on which Clifford Willson, former U.S. Bureau of Reclamation official, served as an American member with full advisory authority.
Under the former Iraq government about 90 million dollars out of its annual oil revenues were assigned to the development board for Tigris and Euphrates valley power, irrigation and agricultural projects.
This was one of the show places of the Middle East. But the new Iraq government has not decided to continue it.
Other programs on which the Iraq government has not decided to include land improvement, agricultural economic analysis, farm credit, railway advisory mission, public administration and water resource development.
AMONG THE PROGRAMS which have been reactivated are education, farm training, sanitation, maternal and child health.
The American outlay for these projects has not been large. Iraq oil revenues covered most of the costs. U.S. expenditures this year were budgeted at 2.2 million dollars. Special assistance of $560,000 was also provided. It included $470,000 for police training which curiously enough has been continued without interruption.
Iraq police are among those who are now making life difficult for American missions still in the country. In this they are aided, if not directed, by the Iraq army, for which the United States furnished millions of dollars worth of equipment. This was in pre-revolutionary days when Iraq was a Baghdad Pact member in good standing.
ON TOP OF THIS the Baghdad radio carries on continuous criticism of the United States as an imperialist aggressor.
In the Iraq trials of former officials in the assassinated King Faisal's government, the United States is accused of having organized cells in the Iraq army to work for invasion of Syria and overthrow of its government.
This charge has been branded by the U.S. State Department as absolute nonsense.
But this is how the new government of Iraq is carrying out the expressed desire of its new leader, Premier Kassem, to continue good relations with its old friend, the United States.

NEW YORK (AP)—Perhaps all of you know of at least one man who has come up against a mandatory retirement rule in his company and had to step out much against his will.
His plight arouses pity. But the rule is spreading in industry.
And more companies seem to find it best for everyone, although in some board rooms there is discussion of advancing the retirement age — 65 seems to be the norm — in view of the increasing life expectancy that insurance company statistics reveal.
Most executives, although facing the situation themselves, seem to approve of it. But more men begin preparing for the day well in advance and have their plans well blocked out.
More companies are starting up advisory programs to train employees to meet the situation when it arrives.
To see how company presidents themselves feel about executive age and retirement problems, Dun & Bradstreet has queried heads of 162 companies, representing 25 billion dollars in total assets and 30 billion dollars in annual net sales.
It reports today in its publication, Dun's Review and Modern Industry, that three out of four of the manufacturing concerns now have mandatory retirement rules.
Four out of five of the presidents favor the idea in principle. And four out of five already have a successor in mind for their own job.
The average age of the 162 presidents is 55. The average president has had the top job for seven years. On average he has a nine-man team of immediate subordinates, their age averaging 32. Most of the presidents think executives are most productive in the years between 40 and 60. Understandably, presidents who are

Imposing Array Of Prize Winners At Flower Show

A record crowd attended the fall Flower Show held Friday in the Woman's Club auditorium under the joint sponsorship of the Woman's Club and Warren Garden Club. From the wagon-load of flowers on the front lawn to the beautiful woodland scene with a waterlily pool, the entire show was perfection itself.

It would be difficult to single out any one exhibit as being most outstanding, but the judges gave three State Garden Club awards to entries in the show. Mrs. Stuart Myers' exquisite luncheon table received a tri-color award. This table was set with green luncheon mats, and simple white china banded with green leaves. The flowers, arranged in china compotes, were blue delphinium and bachelor buttons combined with fern, and a central low compote filled with limes and green pears.

The Italian china purchased on their European trip and combined with woven mats and a long, low arrangement of garden flowers won for Mrs. Charles Pettibone an award of distinction from the judges. The other state award was given to Mrs. Harry Logan, Sr., for a perfect spray of floribunda roses.

Other distinctive settings were done by Mrs. John Fanaritis, whose table appointments came from Greece; Mrs. Scott Calderwood, whose child's party table featured a red felt cloth over a white fringed one and popcorn balls for candle holders; Mrs. Joseph Williamson, whose mantel arrangement was done as if for a wedding; Mrs. Harry Logan, whose cocktail buffet table was impressive with its massive appointments and perfect arrangement of fruit.

Penn State Research Program Forges Ahead

Research program at Pennsylvania State University, like other activity of the University, forges ahead in an expanding state.

The research program today includes more than 1,200 projects and has an annual budget that exceeds $8,000,000.

The increase, charted in the long-range plans for Penn State, will result from growing demands made on the University by government agencies and industry as well as the need for projects resulting from an expanding graduate training program.

To help meet demands for laboratory space for the expanding program, the University has already started construction of the first of three units of a $1,200,000 research center on the fringe of the campus. The center will be financed with borrowed funds which will be repaid from funds allocated for facilities for specific projects.

The program includes both basic research, which is designed to gain fundamental knowledge; and applied research in which the scientist seeks a definite objective.

Funds provided by various branches of Army, Navy and Air Force support major projects at Penn State, including the Ordnance Research Laboratory which is operated under contract with Navy Bureau of Ordnance. Since 1945 this laboratory has been concerned primarily with research and development for torpedoes and the design of propellers, body shapes and other underwater devices. Findings resulting from research in this laboratory, as well as in other departments have made important scientific contributions which are vital to the security of the nation.

Research on secondary recovery of petroleum, supported by the State and petroleum industry, has salvaged an estimated $93,000,000 worth of crude oil from Pennsylvania fields.

To have the physical joys of youth, combined with the experience of age, has always been the hoped for wish of everyone. Formerly, this dream was impossible. People just couldn't live long enough.

But now average life expectancy is up to the biblical three score and ten and steadily increasing. You can prevent time from stealing away your youth. The chief enemy of youth is sickness. Visit your physician at the first sign of any illness. He can prescribe the proper medication to help you get well quicker, before any serious damage is done.

"Coya Come Home" Plea Is Being Tested in Minnesota

By ADOLPH JOHNSON
AP Political Writer
MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Voter reaction to a "Coya Come Home" appeal by her husband is being tested in the Minnesota primary election today as Democratic Rep. Coya Knutson seeks renomination. Being nominated in the state-wide primary are candidates for the U.S. Senate, eight other seats in the House of Representatives, and a full slate of state offices. Mrs. Knutson, 45, last spring disregarded the written request of her husband Adny, 50, that she give up politics to restore their home life in the town of Oklee, a village of 500. Sunday, when she spoke to an audience of 1,200 in Oklee, her husband stayed in the hotel, waiting for her to come and see him. She didn't. "I'm too busy working to come back and fight a few personal battles," she said. Knutson is supporting Marvin Evenson, Moorhead businessman who is Mrs. Knutson's opponent in the 9th Dist. Evenson told voters Mrs. Knutson isn't doing her job, that she misses too many roll calls. Mrs. Knutson retorted that her attendance record is better than most and that she has a heavy committee load. Most observers believe Mrs. Knutson should beat Evenson, but will face a stiff challenge in November from State Rep. Odin Langen, Kennedy farmer who is opposed to the Republican nomination.

12 Die When Jet Bombers Crash in Air

By JERRY O'BRIEN
SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — A giant B52 jet bomber sliced into the side of another at sundown Monday and both planes crashed in flames near a busy highway. Twelve of the 16 men aboard were killed. A 200-pound chunk of landing gear sailed through the air, smashed through a service station sign and skidded to rest on the shoulder of Highway 2, a main link between Spokane and Seattle. The roar of the crash, flying debris and the explosion as the planes hit the ground terrified two fleeing service station attendants and two customers, along with patrons of a nearby tavern. But no one on the ground was hurt. The eight-million-dollar B52s, prime atom bomb carriers of the Strategic Air Command, were making routine landings at Fairchild Air Force Base when they collided about 1,500 feet over the highway. The B52s were carrying some classified materials but officials said these did not include nuclear weapons. Joe Martella, a service station attendant, said both planes were turning at the time. "I looked up when I heard a tremendous roar from the engines of one plane," he said. "The pilot seemed to be trying to get out of the way. Then they hit. The wing of one hit the other right behind the cockpit and it looked like it was cut in two." Martella and the station owner, Mike Anderson, ran across the highway and dived into a ditch. The planes were less than two miles from the Fairchild runway when they collided.

Sub Alert Only Excitement Aboard Destroyer in Convoy

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
ABOARD USS HELENA in the Formosa Strait (AP)—An urgent signal flashed from one of our escorting destroyers—possible submarine contact. The destroyer Collett on our left flank ran up a black flag, signaling her sonar equipment had picked up sounds like those of a sub. The time was 11:15 Sunday morning. This cruiser, flagship of the U. S. 7th Fleet, had just joined the cruiser Columbus and six American destroyers on an important and perhaps historic mission. The objective was to escort two Chinese Nationalist landing ships carrying 300 tons of ammunition through the Communist blockade to besieged Quemoy Island just off the Red China mainland. It was the first time an American-escorted convoy was making a run across the Formosa Strait in daylight, running a risk of Red shore batteries or attack from Red torpedo boats or planes. The convoy marked a new phase in the American policy to help Chiang Kai-shek hold the offshore islands. A few miles ahead we could see Quemoy. On our right some 12 miles away but within sight was the Communist mainland. It was now one hour since the Collett's sub report and the destroyer sent word she still was getting contact. The two Nationalist ammunition ships moved ahead of their American escorts toward the beach. Now they were accompanied by four small Nationalist patrol boats for the remaining three or four miles to shore. On the flag bridge of the Helena, Vice Adm. Wallace M. Beakley, the 7th Fleet commander, received a stream of reports on the progress of the operation. He said the landing ships had reached the beach and so far there were no reports of any air activity or artillery from shore. There had been no Red shelling for the previous 24 hours and little or no bombardment in the previous two days. At 12:35 another message came from the Collett. Beakley said, "We now evaluate the sounding as a wreck of a ship on the bottom of the sea. It's pretty doubtful that it's a sub." Then he added with a smile, "We sank too many ships in here in the last war. We keep running into wrecks all the time." No one had been too much worried by the sub report, although it provided the only moment of anxiety of the operation. Beakley and his chief of staff, Capt. Arthur F. Spring, had their lunch brought to them, on trays while they remained on the flag bridge. Overhead were jet vapor trails, cover for the convoy. The gray-helmeted crewmen of the Helena, all wearing bright orange-red life jackets, had been at battle stations since mid-morning. They got battle rations of sandwiches and fruit at their gun positions. At 1:30 we got word that one ammunition landing ship had reached the beach successfully but had trouble and had backed away. Thirty minutes later came another message from the beach: "Progress going slowly in unloading the first landing ships and have called for more hands. The second ship still is trying to find a grandstand seat." Beakley ordered the second ship to land at another beach. At 2:35 the Helena crew was told to "relax battle dress." This meant they could take off life jackets and smoke but must remain at battle stations. Word from the beach was that unloading of both ships was progressing satisfactorily and would be finished before dark. Shortly afterward Beakley decided the operation was moving well enough for the Helena to quit the scene, leaving the Columbus and the six destroyers to escort the landing ships back to Formosa. The Helena broke away and headed for southern Formosa so Beakley could witness joint amphibious exercises of U.S. and Nationalist Marines and naval units. Except for the submarine alert, the whole operation was so uneventful that it was like peacetime naval exercise. "The most ferocious thing around here is that shark off our starboard side," one sailor remarked.

Retailers Warned By D. A. Against Bad Check Frauds

Warren County is experiencing a serious wave of bad check passing, according to District Attorney Samuel F. Bonavita, who spoke last night to the Executive Committee of the Retail Division, Warren Area Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Bonavita said that a real problem has developed within the past three months and that 25 cases involving bad checks have come to his attention. The District Attorney told the merchants that all parts of the county have been affected and that every method of passing the worthless checks is being tried by both professional and amateur criminals. Most serious problem, however, is with the drifters who visit a community long enough to cash a check and then move on. Bonavita strongly advised all retail merchants to not cash any check for a stranger and to be especially cautious in any such transaction. He advised the store operators to immediately contact his office or Chief of Police Mike Evan if a fraudulent check is received and that offenders would be prosecuted. The committee was also advised to get all cash out of their stores at night because of the rash of professional burglaries in the area where the intruders are seeking only money. In other business last night the committee made plans for a unique October community-wide promotion, approved recommendations for Christmas store hours, heard plans for a September meeting of all retail Chamber members, received a report from the Parking Authority on plans for the future, and a report on the Chamber's industrial development activities. Attending last night's meeting were Irvin Poust, Carl Bartsch, J. Stewart Beckley, James A. Blomquist, Karl Grettenberger, Joseph H. Kimmel, Jake Levinson, Carl Lundahl, Forest McAlister, who chairmanned the session, Hugh Mohney, Frank Wood, Arnold Whren, Charles Tranter, and John Logan.

STUDENTS STUDYING?

If 1958 freshmen at Washington and Jefferson College at Washington, Pa., are typical, high school students are studying harder and chalking up more A's and B's than their predecessors. The college's first-year class of 210 students starting studies September 17 are mentally better qualified than last year's crop of newcomers. This fact is based on College Board entrance exams in which individual scores this year averaged fifty points higher than those of last year. W and J is an independent liberal arts college for men.

Running true to poor form, the month of September continued to make unfavorable weather the conversation topic today when an early morning temperature low brought a 38-degree reading, just 6 degrees above freezing.

with Red China. Dulles said that if the Chinese Reds agreed to a meaningful renunciation of force, that would alter the situation. Consequences would flow from this, he said, but he could not spell them out in advance because they involved relations with the rights of an ally—Nationalist China.

Dulles was asked whether the United States would recommend evacuation of Quemoy, Matsu and other offshore islands held by Nationalist China if the Peiping regime agreed to renounce force. He replied the United States could not itself negotiate the future of the offshore islands since they belong to Nationalist China. But he said a Red Chinese renunciation of force, if effective and dependable, would certainly be a new element.

Dulles also said: 1. Whether U.S. warships conveying Nationalist supplies would fire back at any Communist assault on them would depend upon whether the attack was accidental or deliberate. If deliberate, he said, the U.S. ships could be expected to take some action.

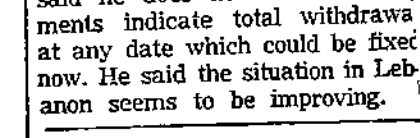

2. In the national interest, he thought it unwise to say whether the United States would agree to Nationalist air raids on Communist mainland bases from which Red aircraft might attack Quemoy.

3. Dulles was the "high U.S. official" in Newport, R.I., who briefed newsmen on the significance of Dulles' Sept. 4 statement which pledged effective and prompt support for Nationalist China.

Dulles' disclosure followed his being named last Saturday by former Secretary of State Dan Acheson as the previously unnamed official.

4. The United States might be able to reduce the size of its forces in Lebanon. But Dulles said he does not think developments indicate total withdrawal at any date which could be fixed now. He said the situation in Lebanon seems to be improving.

There are no taxes for bridges—
There are no hot dog stands on Pincus. They'd be considered in bad taste (for obvious reasons—)

There are no roads—

Local 1111 of the Beaver County State Highways Employees says that two workers have been suspended without pay in the past two days.

The union charged in a telegram to federal and state officials, that "State Bureau of Investigation men are using Gestapo tactics on employees of the Pennsylvania Dept. of Highways in Beaver County."

Gov. Leader, Secretary Lewis Stevens of the Highways Dept., Mayor David I. Lawrence of Pittsburgh, State Sen. Joseph M. Barr, State Sen. John C. Miller and Rep. Frank M. Clark received copies of the telegram.

New School

In New York City for sponsors of school annuals on October 17 and 18; and Miss Catherine Henderson, librarian at Beatty, to attend the National Regional Meeting of Librarians in Atlantic City on October 2-4.

Careful consideration was given to a replacement for the Director of Instruction. A committee of Messrs. Wallace H. Cowden, Harris E. Johnson, and Melvin G. Keller was designated to do the preliminary work and make a recommendation to the committee. The Department of Public Instruction has recently set up requirements for this position, including a Doctor's Degree or 70 hours of graduate study with minimum work in elementary and secondary school curriculum, instruction, supervision, and the humanities.

They approved Special Services for July in the amount of $994.80, for August $617.50, and janitors' overtime for August totaling $532.39. They authorized in-home training for Joyce Miller and the supervised recreation program for Friday evenings at the "Spot," with Messrs. James Fales, Harold Miller, and Dan Stimmel as supervisors under the direction of Fred Bell. They approved orders written during the past two months totaling $1,393.07.

On the recommendation of Mr. Hanson, they approved the Knights of Columbus using the Beatty Cafeteria for a Sports Night Dinner on October 13; the Chamber of Commerce using the Beatty Cafeteria and Auditorium for their Annual Dinner on February 4 and the Beatty Cafeteria for a Business-Industry-Education Dinner on October 14; the Lions Club using the Beatty Cafeteria for a Banquet on October 8; the Trinity Memorial Congregation using the Beatty Cafeteria for a Dinner; and the High School Faculty using the Beatty Auditorium for a lecture by John Crosby on October 30.

On the recommendation of W. H. Cowden, the chairman of the Finance Committee, they approved bills to be paid in the amount of $53,893.10. The large bills were for rental to the Warren Authority in the amount of $28,789.25, test borings on the new site $1,997.90, and books and supplies for this school year.

On the recommendation of Harry R. Chmberg, chairman of the Textbooks, Supplies and Equipment Committee, they employed the Petersen Company of Philadelphia to rebuild and recover the large tumbling mat at Beatty.

They received the report of the auditors, Swanson, Glass & Coates, for this past school year.

They were pleased with the favorable report on the opening of school. While the numbers are larger than usual, regular classes started on the first day and teachers new to the staff adapted themselves well, seeming almost to have been here before.

League of Cities Hears Address From Governor

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Gov. Leader today called on the League of Cities to urge amendment of the state constitution to allow future governors to succeed themselves.

The governor declared such a change "would be to everyone's best interests, including those of the cities of Pennsylvania."

He addressed the annual meeting of the statewide organization, which represents Pennsylvania's major urban areas.

"Our limitation on the term of the governorship has a measurable limitation on the effectiveness of the governorship," Leader asserted.

Under the present state constitution a governor may not succeed himself, but may serve additional terms later, if elected.

Surrender is indicated when an enemy ship strikes her colors in battle.

The commander of the U. S. 7th Fleet in the Formosa Strait indicated however, that U. S. help at present consists in escorting Nationalist supply convoys no closer than within three miles of Quemoy. The United States recognizes only a three-mile limit to Chinese coastal waters despite a Communist claim last week of a 12-mile limit.

The first American escort Sunday "was to show that the United States is not going to stand by idly and see these islands starve," Beakley said on his flagship, the cruiser Helena.

from one of the three justices of the 4th U.S. Circuit Court.

In New Orleans, Federal Judge Herbert W. Christenberry signed a preliminary injunction to force the Louisiana State University commuters' college to admit Negroes.

Sidelights on the integration front came from Omaha, Neb., where Alfred C. Kennedy, a realtor, insisted Negroes have a responsibility to solve their own housing problem.

And in New York parents of 15 Negro students kept their children home from Harlem schools because, they said, "we want the children sent to schools out of the neighborhood which are better integrated." New York has no segregation as such in its schools. But schools in predominantly Negro neighborhoods often wind up with few, if any, white students.

Robertson, a father of three children, was quoted by Sheriff Ray Scheerer as saying he forced the girl to drive for some distance and that he himself drove a while until a tire blew out.

When Robertson tried to repair the tire on a county road about 30 miles from the kidnapping scene, the girl broke and ran.

"I shouted to her: 'I'm sorry I'm such a crack shot but I'm gonna have to do this,'" Robertson was quoted as saying. "Then I shot her."

Bell Proposal to Hike Some Charges Rejected

HARRISBURG (AP) — A proposal by the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania to boost installation and reconnection charges by $2,772,000 a year has been turned down by the Public Utility Commission.

The commission said Monday Bell failed to prove need for the boost at a series of hearings on the proposal.

The increases were to have gone into effect last Dec. 13, but were suspended while the commission investigated their reasonableness.

Bell wanted to raise the charge for installing new residence telephones to $7 from $4.25 in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and $4 elsewhere in the state.

The charge for business phone connections would have been raised to $10 from $8 in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and $7 elsewhere.

Clemente Clouts Three Triples to Tie Major Record

By GEORGE ESPER

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Fast balls or curves make no difference to outfielder Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates. He hits them all.

Clemente belted three triples Monday night to tie a major league record as the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated Cincinnati 4-1. He became the 31st major league player to accomplish such a feat.

"First two I hit," Clemente said, "they fast balls. Then I hit curve."

Clemente was reminded that his best friend Roman Mejias hit three home runs in one game against the San Francisco Giants this year. Asked if he was trying to do the same, Clemente facetiously answered:

"I hit two homers this year against Philadelphia. Third time I come to bat, he (Mejias) say don't hit three homers please. He say I hit three homers and next day they bench me."

Clemente boosted his average from .281 to .284, but he would like nothing better than to hit .300. He now has 10 triples.

The 24-year-old native of San Antonio, Carolina, Puerto Rico, has a powerful bat, tremendous speed, hustle, and a throwing arm that flashes a red light to hitters who would like that extra base.

Clemente was signed by Brooklyn as a bonus player in 1953 and played with Montreal in 1954. The Pirates picked him up in the player draft at the end of the 1954 year.

Ralph Dupas Posts 10-Round Decision Over John Gorman

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Slick boxing Ralph Dupas started the chant today for a crack at welterweight champion Virgil Akins' title but admitted he needed another bout or two before pressing his claim.

Dupas, the No. 6 contender from New Orleans, returned to action Monday night after a four month layoff and posted a 10-round decision over unexpectedly tough Johnny Gorman, 22-year-old New Yorker.

Judges Frank Kercheval and Pete Galusso had Dupas a 7-3 winner. Referee Eddie Wolfe had Dupas the winner 6-3-1. The AP card agreed with Wolfe's.

"I think I'm back on the road now," Dupas said. "I was satisfied with my showing. I want to meet Akins and I'll be ready for him or anybody else after a couple of fights."

The victory was the 69th for the 22-year-old Dupas who has lost only eight and fought six draws. Gorman took his eighth setback against 28 victories.

Speaking of Sports

The chomping games have not been won, but no one doubts that this year's World Series will see the Milwaukee Braves pitted once more against the New York Yankees. This kind of thing makes it hard for Americans to find the distractions they seek from major events in the world.

The Yanks ended all suspense in the American League in the first couple of weeks. For at least the last month and a half they've been playing almost mediocre baseball, but everybody else was so far behind it didn't matter.

It was different in the National. Most experts figured the Braves would repeat. But, strapped with injuries, they looked pretty sad until near the end of July. The race was fairly tight, yet only because each team seemed bent on out-stagging the other.

Finally the Braves made their run, winning 18 of 23 and pulling well ahead of the pack. So now they and the Yanks are busy spying on each other.

But races like these don't help baseball. If the leagues can't stir up more excitement than in 1958, the spies may be the only ones in the stands.

Prospects for Expanding Major League Baseball

Second of a Series

By BILL SENYK

Canadian Press Sports Writer

TORONTO (AP)—Big league baseball in Toronto?

"Closer than you think," say enthusiastic fans.

"Never happen," counter the pessimists who have tired of waiting.

But almost all agree that no definite steps are being taken now to give Canada a major league team.

Toronto fans have top-caliber hockey, football, boxing, horse racing and golf. All draw well. Major basketball had an unsuccessful stay a decade ago when the Toronto Huskies were in the National Basketball Assn.

Jack Kent Cooke, owner of the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International Baseball League, would welcome a major franchise.

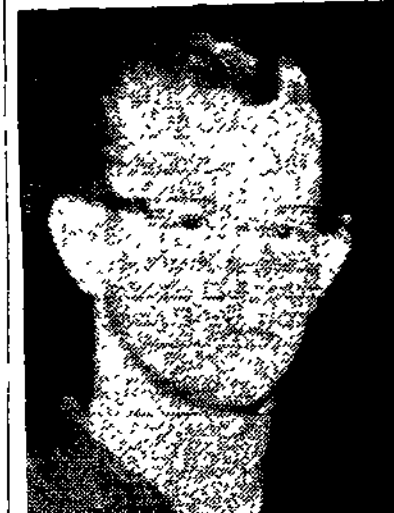

Cooke, enthusiastic sportsman and businessman, bought the Leafs in 1951 and built the team into a perennial pennant contender that has drawn an average of about 385,000 fans a season. He says he is convinced Toronto could have major ball if it had a suitable stadium.

Metropolitan Toronto, a city of 1,380,775, is a good baseball town. In 1942, although they finished fourth, the Leafs drew 446,158 fans. When they won their first pennant in 11 years in 1954, 489,717 paid admissions. This year, attendance seems likely to be more than 300,000.

Frutful territory surrounds the city. Hamilton, Canada's seventh largest city, is 40 miles away. Within commuting distance are Buffalo, N.Y., (85 miles), Oshawa, Ont., (30 miles), and several other sizable communities.

Competing with baseball are twice-a-week stock car races, Thursday night wrestling bouts, and a couple of home football games that fall late in the baseball season. There is daily horse

Introducing 1958 Dragon

BILL BRUMAGIM

End Bill Brumagim returned to Warren High football squad for his fourth season, expecting to be started on the starting lineup on both offensive and defensive.

The 17-year-old senior has participated in three seasons of basketball and two of track, receiving one letter in each.

His 6' 155-pound frame carried him through grid contests last year up to the Titusville game where he sustained a back injury, removing him for the remainder of the season.

"We have an excellent chance for a good team," Bill explained. "We have 11 lettermen and they're filling almost all the main slots."

Commenting on fan support of the five home contests, Brumagim said, "Fan support is a tremendous help. It makes the team feel that they're doing something for their community."

Bill eyes a possible future in engineering with hopes of entering Dickinson College after graduation.

racing in the area most of the summer.

Toronto has no stadium of major league standards. Last May 26, the City Council passed a resolution leaving the door open for conversion of the Canadian National Exhibition grandstand into a baseball stadium. It now seats 24,000 and could be enlarged to 40,000 or so.

But there is a snag. The grandstand has been rented to the Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Football League starting with the 1959 season. The Argos start their schedule in mid-August. There also is a two-week exhibition season starting in early August.

Enlarging the present Maple Leaf Stadium is not feasible. It seats close to 18,000.

Cooke offered to build a six-million-dollar stadium in Riverdale Park if the city would donate the bowl-shaped land. But the city balked.

Rain Interferes With Late Model Racing Schedule

Of Man Weather brought a premature halt to the season's Late Model racing schedule at Stateline Speedway on Saturday night, canceling what was to have been the final go-round for the 1958-59 automobiles.

Perhaps Jim Patrick of Wellsville breathed a private sigh of relief, for he rode an uneasy seat at the top of Stateline's standings, with Jamestown's John Seeley and Squirt Johns of Brockway less than one feature victory behind.

Luck never seems to run in only one direction, and Patrick has been riding one of the longest hot streaks in current late model history. In races which saw many another top contender's hopes dashed by a crack-up or mechanical failure, Jim escaped to use his expert handling ability to its best advantage, going on to win or place high in the feature events.

Thus, although overdue for one of the unlucky breaks of the game, Gentleman Jim Patrick accomplished something which is always difficult to do gracefully — he quit while he was still ahead.

Next week at Stateline, another of the terrific jolopy shows will hold forth in the Saturday night "pot. This event, labelled the Grand Championship Race for the older cars, will doubtless draw at least 100 of the vintage vehicles, if the success of two such previous shows is any indication. 100 laps of feature racing, plus preliminaries, will give the fans plenty of opportunity to witness slam-bang action the likes of which cannot be seen anywhere except on the fast Stateline oval.

The following week marks the final program of the season on the Busti track, as the AMA motorcycles put on their five-star meet on Sunday afternoon.

About 50 countries now have old-age pension programs varying from scant to generous.

Pittsburgher To Walk to Gotham For the Series

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A. F. (Monte) Bergman of nearby Leetsdale is planning on taking another walk soon.

Ordinarily there wouldn't be much news in that, but Bergman is 72 years old and he's figuring on walking 350 miles.

Confident that the Yankees will win the American League pennant, Bergman plans walking to New York to see the World Series.

"I've walked to about a dozen World Series," he said. "I've walked from my home to New York 30 times and to Chicago 25 times." Bergman has done a lot of other walking. He figures he's walked 300,000 miles during his lifetime. On his birthday anniversaries he walks one mile for each year of his age.

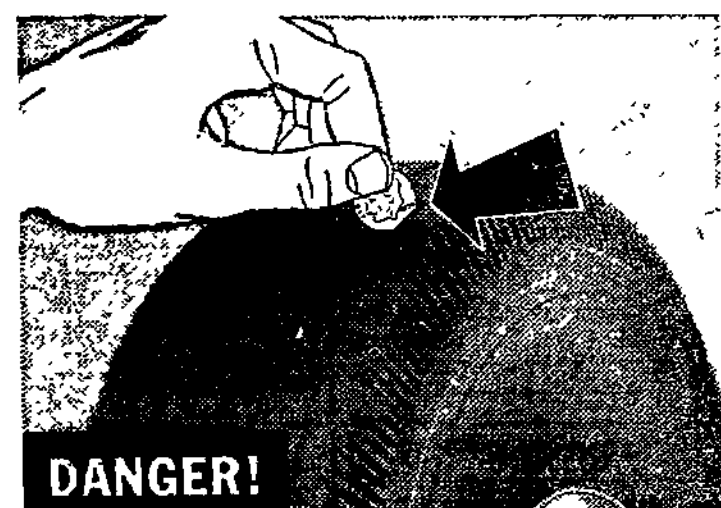

His birthday walk was on the Boardwalk at Atlantic City this year.

"I walked 72 miles in 15 hours and 37 minutes last May over there," he said.

New Rules Make College Lineman Change Strategy

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Fifty the poor college lineman. He has to change his football life because the college rules committee decided last winter it would be better to block with one arm than with two.

The new rule states that a blocker must keep only one arm against his chest with hand clenched instead of two as in past years. What he is going to do with the other hand to avoid a 15-yard penalty for holding is up to him to learn between now and the opening of the season.

It is also considered enough of a problem by most coaches that the linemen are getting the bulk of the hard work during the first week's workouts.

Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes began juggling his linemen Wednesday, moving tackle Dick Schafrath to end. He then moved soph Jim Tyrer, a 254-pounder, into the tackle slot.

At Michigan State, Duffy Daugherty held a head-bumping session with his linemen, with Line Coach Lou Agase emphasizing the new blocking rule as the boys hit each other one on one, then two on one.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal promised his linemen more work when he complained after Wednesday's scrimmage session that "the guards weren't tackling."

Wisconsin's linemen "still looked pretty ragged" according to Coach Milt Bruhn after the Badgers' scrimmage.

In the Atlantic Coast Conference, Coach Paul Amen put his Wake Forest linemen through a brisk

Coach Frank Howard's Clemson Tigers went at each other in a hard blocking session while Columbia lost center and Capt. Coy Gobble for two weeks with a fractured toe.

Notre Dame had its first scrimmage Wednesday as Coach Terry Brennan benched the lack of overall speech. Oklahoma scrimmaged in one session as Coach Bud Wilkinson elevated sophs Jim Steward and Jim Carpenter to first string halfback.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — If the National Boxing Assn. has its way, neither Ezzard Charles nor Hurricane Jackson can get a foot in a ring.

UNION SPURNS AID
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Harry Teyss international vice president of the Teamsters, says the union doesn't need any of the Republican assistance offered by GOP gubernatorial candidate Arthur T. McGonigle.

McGONIGLE

SHARON, Pa. (AP) — Arthur T. McGonigle today pledged to implement the recommendations of a non-partisan group which studied the State Highways Department if he is elected governor.

The Republican candidate, in letters to two prominent civic leaders in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, called the report by the Automotive Safety Foundation "an excellent, objective document."

McGonigle said he "strongly favors the extension of the merit system, with appropriate job security, in the Department of Highways... advance acquisition of highway routes, especially in the areas of rapid population growth... the proposal for a statewide analysis of highway needs... strengthening of the planning function of the Department of Highways."

He said he favors the foundation's suggestion that a chief engineer post be created in the department in favor of its alternate proposal that a part-time highway commission be set up.

CHALLENGE

HARRISBURG (AP) — U.S. Rep. Hugh Scott Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, today had a challenge from Gov. Leader to debate the national recession and means of solving it.

In a letter to Scott Leader said he believes "we should discuss the recent White House veto of the Area Redevelopment Bill—an action that is hurting Pennsylvania badly."

"I believe we should conduct this debate in one of the areas of chronic unemployment—one of the communities whose chance at economic recovery has been set back by this White House veto," Leader said.

RAFS DEMOCRATS

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.) said today Congress set a record in peacetime appropriations this year "because the Democrat leadership planned it that way."

Simpson, chairman of the GOP Congressional Campaign Committee, said the nearly $1 billion dollars of appropriations amounts to an average of $465 per person and contended "the Democrats will spend even more recklessly if given the chance."

NEW YORK (AP) — A new and greatly improved Voice of Firestone returned to the home screen on ABC-TV Monday night.

For 30 years on radio and television the program has been offering fine music by outstanding artists. At times in recent seasons it seemed to neglect essential showmanship and simply focused its cameras on a concert stage. At times it seemed to be conceding toward any music that was not so-called classical.
